WHERE: This event is virtual. Register to attend at the link here.

WHY: PerkinElmer is the global market leader in neonatal screening, currently serving customers in more than 100 countries. The Company has organized the Newborn Screening Virtual Summit to inform and educate individuals across the globe of the latest scientific advances in this field, including new and novel solutions for screening of various disorders, laboratory and workflow improvements and more.

Over the course of the 24-hour live stream, 40-plus sessions will be offered in one of five languages. There are country-specific sessions for attendees in China, Japan, Brazil, France and across Africa. Other sessions will focus on Duchenne Muscular Dystrophy, molecular advances in newborn screening such as SMA and SCID detection, as well how COVID-19 has impacted newborn screening programs. The keynote address is scheduled for 9:00 a.m. ET and will be delivered by Professor Moshe Hod, chair of the Pregnancy & Non Communicable Diseases Committee for the International Federation of Obstetrics and Gynecology (FIGO) and professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the Sackler Faculty of Medicine, Tel-Aviv University, Israel.
